City prepares for SSLC exams

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (RK&DM)- With the SSLC exams (2021-22) just two days away, the Department of Public Instruction has made all preparations in the city and district for safe and smooth conduct of the exams that will take place from Mar. 28 till Apr. 11 across the State.

A total of 38,138 students from 674 High Schools of the district, who also include 140 repeaters and 1,867 private students, have registered for the exam.

Mysuru DDPI Ramachandraraja Urs said that the SSLC exams will be held at 149 centres in the district, including 56 in Mysuru city and 93 in taluk centres and other rural parts of the district.

Hebbal Main Road will now be Dr. Sudha Murty Road

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (RK&BCT)- The road in Hebbal from the aesthetic 'Hebbaalina Hebbaagilu' welcome arch till the Kuvempu Circle that is at present called "Hebbal Main Road" will get a new name from today — "Dr. Sudha Murty Road."

Dr. Sudha Murty

The official renaming will be done this evening at 4.30 and former Infosys Foundation Chairperson Dr. Sudha Murty will be present on the occasion.

Dr. Sudha Murty stepped down from the Foundation sometime back, delegating the responsibility. As the Chairperson, she was instrumental in giving Hebbal a new face with her philanthropy work including the rejuvenation and rebirth of the once dead Hebbal Lake. Also, Infosys Mysore has a campus at Hebbal providing direct and indirect employment to thousands of Mysureans.

In recognition of this contribution, the Hebbal Main Road will be renamed as "Dr. Sudha Murty Road," said Corporator Pailwan Sreenivas. The welcome arch, in front of the Metagalli Police Station on KRS Road, was constructed at a cost of Rs. 25 lakh and it is one of the many attractive arches in Mysuru.

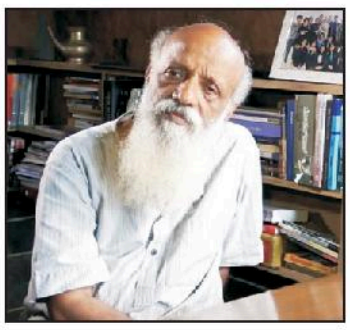
Seeking autonomous status for Cultural Institutions

Theatre Director Prasanna to observe fast



Mysuru, Mar. 26- Well-known Theatre Director and Playwright Prasanna will be observing a fast from this evening (Mar. 26) to the midnight of Mar. 27 to urge the Government to grant autonomous status to all the Cultural Institutions related to Language, Art and Theatre.

In a press release on the eve of World Theatre Day (Mar. 27), Prasanna said, "Cultural Institutions belong to the people and are not Government Institutions. Providing grants does not entitle the Government to interfere in its affairs. But this interference, from Government and politicians, have been increasing these days, posing a threat to their autonomy. This must stop."

"Various Drama Schools in different States across the country need to come out of the clutches of the National School of Drama (NSD), New Delhi. Government should sanction more funds to propagate theatre activities in Schools," he said adding that the Local Parents Committee should hire qualified theatre personalities to instil interest in theatre among the young students.

"The National School of Drama in Bengaluru belongs to Karnataka. It has to be remodelled according to regional requirements and necessity. But the interference of the NSD in Delhi will effectively be counter-productive in this aspect and this also must stop," he observed.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Last week Bunny and I went back to school and learnt an important lesson. The school is the all-girl Him Jyoti free boarding school in Dehradun, founded in 2005 by the then Governor of Uttarakhand, Sudarshan Agarwal. Having heard a lot about it from friends, we decided to pay the school a visit. We were greeted by a hallful of smartly uniformed students, ranging from age 10 to 17, bright-eyed and melodic as a flock of songbirds as they wished us 'Good morning!' in unison. The school has 280 pupils from Grade 5 to Grade 12, all from subsistence-farming households from the neighbouring hill tracts. We were told that when they enter the school most of them can speak only the local dialect. Yet, within weeks, they begin to pick up Hindi and English.

Two large cabinets laden with trophies for achievements in fields as wide-ranging as athletics, soccer, and debating, won against opponents including the renowned Doon School, attest to the all-round education that Him Jyoti provides, a true light of learning, a resolute candle of hope against the darkness of deprivation and despair. If I were to believe in miracles, I'd say that the school is a minor example of this phenomenon. So what's the secret of such benign sorcery?

Speaking with Bunny, one of the senior teachers suggested a clue as to the answer. She said that over the years she had learnt more from her students than she'd taught them. This implies that true learning is a loop in which the teacher learns from the taught, the guru from the chela, the leader from the led. To be able to teach effectively the teacher must learn, from the needs and hopes of the students, how best to stimulate and satisfy their innate hunger for knowledge. Successful marketing is all about listening to what consumers want and supplying it, not predetermining what is wanted and foisting it on unwilling recipients. Successful political leaders are those who listen and respond to the voter and amend their agenda accordingly, instead of trying to impose their will upon the won't of the people. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India

Brothers survive a month in Amazon Jungle

Rio: Two brothers, aged six and eight, were recently rescued after surviving almost four weeks alone in Brazil's Amazon jungle.

Glauco and Gleison Ferreira left the family home near Manicoré, in Brazil's Amazonas State, on Feb. 18. They went into the nearby jungle to hunt small birds but never came back.

Around 260 people, including locals and professional rescuers, searched for them for over a week but in vain. Though the search was officially called off on Feb. 26, locals kept searching for the boys and luckily, after 27 days, the brothers were traced. Glauco and Gleison were found by a man cutting wood near the village of Palmeira in the Lago Capanã protected land reserve, about 22 miles (35 km) from the spot where they had last been seen.

This invisible house is covered in mirrors

London: A house in the Richmond neighbourhood of London has been dubbed 'the invisible house' as the giant mirror walls reflect everything around it, making it very hard to notice.

London's Invisible House isn't some fancy art installation, but an actual home. Redesigned by architect and artist Alex Haw in 2015, the property has been inhabited since 2019, and the family said that living there has been interesting, to say the least. Even though passers-by can't see inside, the owners can see outside perfectly fine, and they sometimes spot people fixing their hair or clothes in their mirrored walls and windows.

A photo of the invisible house recently went viral leaving people with so many questions. Some wondered how the owners kept the mirrors squeaky clean all the time, while others wondered how they could have passed by it dozens of times and not even realized it was there.

Ply adequate number of city buses

Sir,

This is to highlight the unavailability of city buses in some areas. Commuters, mostly school/college-going children and office-goers, will always be in a hurry to catch their bus/train to reach their destination. No matter what, it's always a challenge to catch the bus/train.

Most of the time people have to face a lot of problems as the city buses have been reduced in number.

No doubt the number of people who used to travel by city buses has decreased recently following the pandemic but this doesn't mean that the number of city buses can be reduced.

Also, it is very disgraceful to see many people travelling on foot-board risking their lives.

I would like to bring it to the notice of the authorities to increase the number of city buses and help the commuters to reach their destination safely and on time. Not all can afford private transport.

NERVE INJURIES
Nerves are the fibres that connect body parts to the brain. A nerve can be motor or sensory. Nerve injury may be partial or complete and can happen due to Road Traffic accidents, cancer surgeries, Industrial accidents etc. In the human body, there are two types of Nervous Systems, Central and Peripheral. Central Nerves emerge directly from the brain and peripheral nerves come from spinal cords. Repairing cranial nerves is rather challenging and functional recovery is poor. However, the peripheral nerves can be repaired and we can get good functional outcomes. When a nerve is cut, the part which that particular nerve supplies will lose its function. The best time to repair an injured nerve is immediately after the transection of the nerve. However, if there is a loss of nerve segment or in case of late reconstruction, a nerve graft may be needed. If the proximal end of the nerve is not available for repair, in such instance nerve transfer may be needed. If nerve repair is done in the proper time and the proper method, we can expect good functional outcomes. Reconstructive microsurgery and plastic surgery deal with the repair of nerves, tendon transfers and repairs to get good functional outcomes. People should not neglect nerve injuries to avoid severe functional defects at a later stage.

Acquire subject knowledge to clear UPSC exams: DCP Pradeep Gunti

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (SBD&TRR)- "English is not essential to succeed in UPSC examinations. Acquire subject knowledge to succeed," said Deputy Commissioner of Police (DCP-Law and Order) Pradeep Gunti.

He was interacting with the candidates preparing for KAS and IAS examinations at a workshop organised by Jnanabutti at Lakshmipuram Composite College on Thursday.

"It is good to learn any language. But it is not right to feel inferior just because you don't know English. Many from Bihar and other States have successfully passed out of UPSC examinations not because of their English knowledge, but because of their subject knowledge. All examinees therefore, should concentrate more on acquiring subject knowledge,' he added.

Answering questions about how many hours of study is needed to succeed in the exams, he said that there is no fixed time limit as some read for about 15-16 hours while some study 5-6 hours daily. "It all depends on the ability to grasp the subject. There are no cameras at the place of interview, what you see in YouTube are mock interviews and students should confidently prepare and appear for the interview. Your ability to solve problems will be judged at the interview and selection will be done on that basis," the DCP added

Elaborating, he said that when it comes to main examinations there will be two papers every day for a week and there won't be much time to prepare for the next exam and asked the IAS and KAS aspirants to stay away from all pressures and prepare themselves for the next subject. "I am from Andhra Pradesh and after completing my B.Tech, I was selected for IPS Manipur Cadre. Because of domestic reasons, I wanted a place near my home State. Therefore, I wrote KPSC exam again and got selected for Karnataka Cadre,' he said.

Social Welfare Department Mandya Dy. Director B. Rangegowda, who spoke, said that continuous study, determination and sustained efforts are required to get success in UPSC exams.

Veteran Journalist Amshi Prasanna Kumar stressed on the need to have knowledge about current affairs apart from subject knowledge to be successful in UPSC exam and advised students to read two newspapers daily.

JSS Women's College Professor Dr. N. Mahadevaswamy spoke on the occasion.

Jnanabutti General Secretary Jainahalli Satyanarayana Gowda, Secretary H. Balakrishna, Co-ordinator Balakrishna and others were present.

SSLC examinations

Highlighting the preparations for the exam, the DDPI said that a meeting with District-level Officers of different Departments was held under the leadership of the Deputy Commissioner on Mar. 23, during which their co-operation was sought for the smooth conduct of the exams.

Maintaining that the marking of hall ticket numbers and seating arrangements will be completed at all centres today, Urs said that there will be only 20 students in an exam room, with two students on one desk.

Also, thermal screening counters have been set up and Health Department staff will be deployed at the exam centres as a precautionary measure, he said adding that students who have tested positive ahead of the exam will be allowed to write the exam at COVID Care Centres.

Pointing out that the question papers will be dispatched to all the Exam Centres from the District Treasury only on assigned routes on the date of the exam, under tight Police security, he said that answer papers have been dispatched to all the Centres, with security measures in place.

Free bus service

Continuing, the DDPI said that students from rural areas appearing for the exams can travel for free in KSRTC buses by producing the exam hall ticket. All the Centres will have drinking water and toilet facilities, he said.

Mobile and vigilance squads have been formed to monitor the Exam Centres, he said adding that CCTV cameras have been installed at vantage points in all centres.

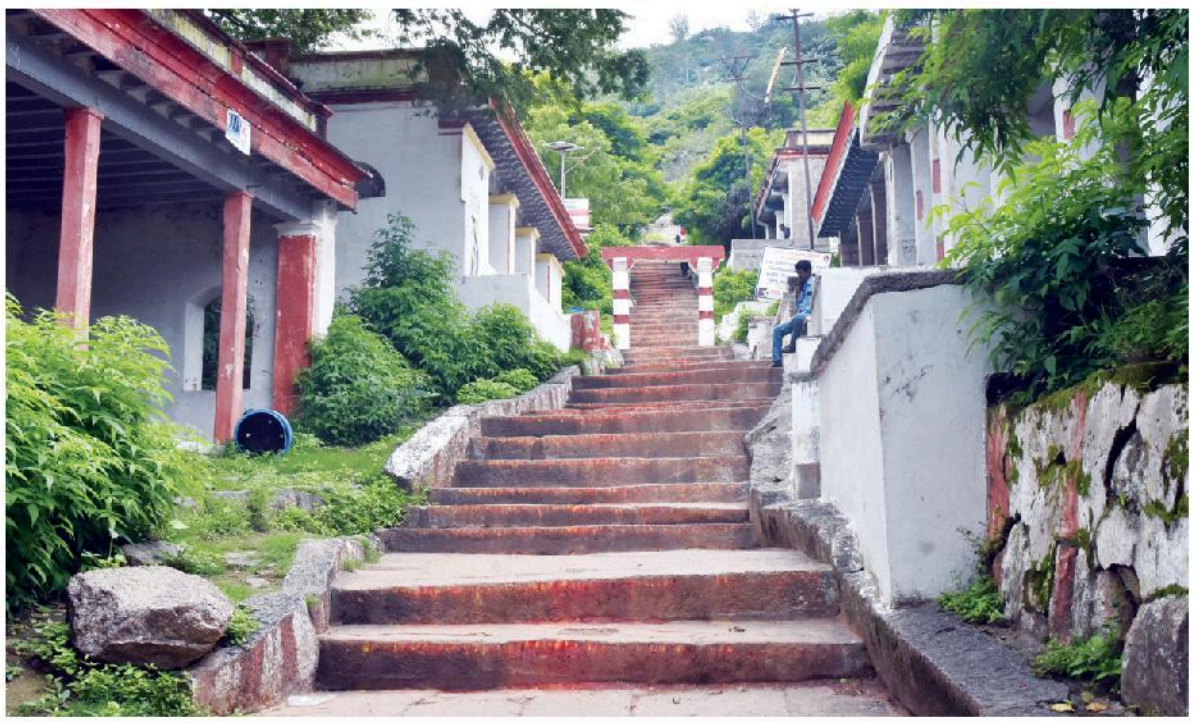
Scarring Chamundi Hill



Every time there is talk of development in Mysuru, the first target is Chamundi Hill. Now the "evergreen" project of ropeway is back and also the "enhancement of steps" which will turn the hill into a hyper-tourist destination at the cost of the hill turning into a mound of muck. And Mysureans have a duty to protect this hill by not letting it be scarred with unnecessary projects.

Now the call for ropeway has been renewed. It was first mooted in the late 1990s and in recent times, it was revived by former Mysuru District in-Charge Minister late D.T. Jayakumar which successive Ministers have tried to push.

Of course, they didn't care that a two-kilometre-long and 10-metre wide strip of forest land would have to be destroyed to do that. And that every 50 metres, more greenery would have to be chopped to make place for the pylons (metal towers that support high voltage cables).

One wonders if the people calling for ropeway again are not worried that of late because of heavy rains our hill is holding more water and there have been landslides. Will the pylons stand?

For a while the call for ropeway had subsided and we thought the hill would be left in peace. But No. We thought wrong because soon the then CM B.S. Yediyurappa came up with a Comprehensive Development Plan (CDP) and said that Chamundi Hill would be developed on the lines of Tirupati-Tirumala Temple with guest house and all that commercial filth that overpowers divinity and stinks up serenity.

Then a local MLA called for the 1.5 km stretch from View Point to the statue of Mahishasura to be made into a four-lane road. This meant digging into the hill, he didn't care!

It seems most of the projects have not been thought through. This reminds me of two such projects — the Mysore Eye and the Canopy.

In 2012, the Government wanted to build a "giant wheel" on the hill and call it "Mysore Eye" like the one in Singapore. And the cost? Just Rs. 30 crore compared to nearly Rs. 800 crore that Singapore spent. And time? Singapore took nearly three years and our Government said they would finish it in just four months! Thankfully after much protest this was cancelled.

Then in 2014, the Government in the garb of concern for climbers came up with another project — Canopy over the steps from the foothill all the way to the top. It was part of many projects to come, costing over Rs. 31 crore.

They didn't stop to think that any covered area with human movement sprouts business enterprises and like the menace atop the hill, the 350-year-old steps too would soon be lined with puja paraphernalia sellers, peanut and tender coconut vendors, idli sellers and, of course, beggars. Thankfully this too was thwarted after much protest by the citizens.

Now ropeway is back and along with plans for railings for the steps. The steps built by Dodda Devaraja in 1664 were reset in 2011 to make it sturdy by spending almost a crore when Manivannan was the DC. Now they want to drill holes in these stones, put railings? Why not just leave it alone?

They say rails are necessary to assist the pilgrims. But then, faith is meant to surpass all hurdles; we are sure a little Mysuru sun, cool breeze and an occasional drizzle in the mornings is more a pleasure than a test of faith. If one is tired, one can sit and rest.

Instead of this railing, maybe we can have some well-designed eco-friendly paid toilets at two or three spots along the steps. And permanent janitors can be employed to keep it clean. This is the service the climbers need more than rails.

As for the ropeway, the question is why? Where is the need for it? What is the feasibility study? Who will maintain it? What are the safety issues? Can we afford specialised rescue teams in case the cubicle gets stuck in the middle? Will the huge generators installed to make sure there is uninterpreted power to keep the cubicles moving, not pollute the hill? Will not the constant vibration and movement disturb the wildlife in the hill?

This new project is part of Union Government's PRASHAD Scheme which stands for Pilgrimage Rejuvenation And Spiritual Heritage Augmentation Drive. May be instead of the ropeway and rails for the steps, they can execute the other works listed under this project, such as the provision of centralised ticketing centre at the foothill, clean drinking water facility and a facility for women and child care.

Unfortunately, while every leader wants to spend crores on projects atop the hill, not one of them has ever launched a massive afforestation drive, strict implementation of plastic-free policy or declared green zone around the hill.

The former Minister for Tourism R.V. Deshpande was audacious enough to say he wanted to boost tourism and did not care for anyone who protested the ropeway...but if the Government really cares to boost tourism in the city, then let them first finish their incomplete projects that have turned the city unattractive to a tourist.

PROTEST NOW OR REGRET LATER: CAN SADHGURU HELP?

Now, while successive Governments don't seem to care for the Hill, what about Mysureans? Every Mysurean, who has found peace, love and truth in this oasis of green, has a duty to protect the hill.

Unfortunately, airing an opinion is not enough as today our Governments don't react to valid opinions that hinder their 'fund-raising' plans. And that is why the public has to protest on the streets.

Everyone says pen is mightier than the sword, but that works in a society where leaders have a sense of empathy and duty. In a political landscape devoid of these traits "feet on the street" is what delivers justice.

In fact, years ago Kukkarahalli Lake too was to get a commercial "facelift" but the Government-backed off after Mysureans started a 'Save Kukkarahalli' campaign. Now, Chamundi Hill too needs the same kind of push.

If you love your hill and want the hill to remain a sanctuary, then every Mysurean has a duty to participate in a protest when it is called for. Yes, sometimes even Gods need our help. And Chamundeshwari looks like she needs our help. Else the steps to heaven will turn into stairway to hell.

Yes, we need tourists. We need their business. But we must also realise that with tourism comes irresponsible tourists. Soon the base station of the ropeway will be peppered with haphazard parking, infested with food vendors, gaudy teddy bear-sellers and a sea of plastic waste.

Ah! may be Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev could perform "Inner Re-engineering" on our officials and leaders so he can save the hill where he was enlightened.

Kuppanna Park opens for year-round public activity

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (MTY&BCT)- Kuppanna Park, also called Nishad Bagh at Nazarbad, is all set to become a beehive of activity with its opening for public walking, photo shoots, movie shooting, conferences and round-table meetings. The park was declared open for all such activities from today, for a fee, of course.

The 12-acre park is most of the time locked and is open only during Dasara for the annual Flower Show. Even after the establishment of an attractive Glass House, the third in Karnataka, the park was out of bounds for the public.

It is located in the heart of the city which is a five-minute walk from the Mysore Palace. Of the 365 days, there would be activity only for over 40 days with the main attraction Dasara Flower Show being held for over 12 days. From today, the park will be open from 6 am to 9 am and 5 pm to 7 pm.

In the past too, the State Government had cleared the proposal of 365-day activity at the park but could not be accomplished due to COVID. The park was thrown open to public activity by MLAs S.A. Ramdas and L. Nagendra this morning.

Adults entering the park will have to pay Rs. 20 and children (above 10) have to pay Rs. 10 per head. A parking fee of Rs. 10 will be charged for two-wheelers and Rs. 20 will be charged for three-wheelers and four-wheelers. Per day camera shooting, pre- and post-wedding shooting will be charged Rs. 10,000 per day and a film shooting per day will cost Rs. 25,000.

Conferences, serials too

Serials and mini-serials can be shot after paying Rs. 10,000 per day and drone camera shooting (with Police permission) can be done for Rs. 5,000 per day. All Government departments can conduct conferences, training programmes and round-table meets can be conducted after paying a per-day fee of Rs. 5,000.

The centre of attraction inside Kuppanna Park is a vast Glass House built in Indo-Saracenic style and Mysuru style. It stands 1.5 metres above the ground and spans 2,419 square metres including corridor and is round in shape with a diameter of 36 metres and has four entry points. It has a dome that is 18-metre wide and can be an ideal place for film shooting and pre-wedding shooting.

Movie shoot

Already a Tamil movie directed by Prabhudeva is being shot inside the Park and from next week, Kannada movie 'Provision Store' directed by Jaggesh will be shot here, officials said. To encourage people to plant saplings, plants and bulbs of varied sizes are being sold at the park ranging from Rs. 20-Rs. 100.

Opening the Kuppanna Park for public activity, MLA Nagendra said that in the coming days, a development plan worth Rs. 5 crore will be formed to further develop the park to make it an all-year-round attraction. He asked the Horticulture Dept. officers to prepare an action plan where small exhibitions, floral decorations and the likes can be organised throughout the year. He added that basic facilities will be provided in the coming days.

Horticulture Department Joint Director S.M. Nagaraj, Deputy Director Rudresh, Assistant Director C. Naveen and Senior Assistant Director Suveda were present.

MMC&RI witnesses a slew of development works: MP

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (RK&BCT)- A slew of development works are being undertaken at the Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI)in city by the Central Government.

The Institute is in its centenary year and once all the development works are completed, MMC&RI will be second-to-none when it comes to providing healthcare and medical education to the poor and middle class population, said Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha.

The Central and State Governments have taken up the development of K.R. Hospital, Cheluvamba Hospital and PKTB Hospitals and a comprehensive roadmap has been prepared for the same. While the State Government has sanctioned Rs. 89 crore for the restoration and repairs of the structures along with bringing in advanced equipment, the Centre is focussed on other infrastructure.

A hostel is being built for both men and women pursuing studies at MMC&RI and the hostel is coming up in the premises of PKTB Hospital on KRS Road at an estimated cost of Rs. 127 crore. A new library is coming up in the college premises along with an examination hall. These are being constructed at an additional cost of Rs. 76.20 crore and even here, certain hi-tech equipment will be purchased, the MP stated in a press release.

- Hostel for boys and girls inside PKTB Hospital
- Oxygen plants at K.R. Hospital, District Hospital
- 13-kilolitre capacity oxygen storage plant
- Viral Research and Diagnostic Laboratory

A fund of Rs. 1.25 crore has been released to refurbish the burns ward of the K.R. Hospital and ward extension and two PSA oxygen generation plants have been set up inside the K.R. Hospital and the District Hospital on behalf of the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) and under the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) allocation, a 13-kilolitre capacity oxygen tank has been constructed.

The MP recalled that when COVID made an entry to Mysuru, it was the state-of-the-art Viral Research and Diagnostic Laboratory (VRDL) at the Department of Microbiology in MMC&RI that became the pioneering laboratory in Karnataka for the detection of the killer virus and its potential variants. This VRDL laboratory was set up with a Rs. 5 crore grant by the Centre in 2017, Simha noted.

With the funds provided both by the State and Centre, the MMC&RI will be developed into a healthcare hub. Apart from constructing new facilities, enough care is being taken to safeguard the heritage structure of the buildings built by the Wadiyars, he noted.

Simha again seeks funds for Naganahalli Satellite Terminal

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (BCT)- With nothing moving in the right direction with regard to Naganahalli Satellite Terminal Project that has been caught in land acquisition tangles and the refusal of State Government to sanction funds for land acquisition, once again, MP Pratap Simha has knocked the doors of Railway Ministry to bear the entire project cost including land acquisition.

Meeting Railway Minister Ashwin Vaishnaw in New Delhi yesterday, the MP informed him about the criticality of the project to Mysuru to decongest the City Railway Station for more passenger amenities and also to improve passenger convenience.

All the basic works for the project including the techno feasibility study and cost benefit analysis have been conducted and the Railways has decided to execute the work in two phases with the first phase costing Rs. 496.29 crore and the total cost being Rs. 789.29 crore, the MP told the Minister, urging him to accord speedy approval for the project.

Once the Naganahalli Terminal Station becomes a reality, there will be more scope for additional trains to come to Mysuru, especially from Bengaluru. Naganahalli Terminal's objective is to decongest the city as well as to provide better service to passengers residing in sub-urban areas. The project is planned on the outskirts of the city where trains can originate or terminate.

MP Pratap Simha with Railway Minister Ashwin Vaishnaw.

Introduction of new services with the existing infrastructure at the City Railway Station is impossible and the Naganahalli Terminal can take care of the projected passenger traffic and achieve a growth of 10 percent annually for the next 20-25 years. Initially, the Terminal Station was proposed at Kadakola Railway Station, but the Railway authorities later decided to have a Terminal Station at Naganahalli that comes before the Mysuru City Railway Station, he noted.

Simha told the Minister that over 165 acres of land was needed for the project and if compensated suitably, the farmers and land-owners were ready to part with the land. He apprised the Minister that the Railways has classified the project as critical in nature and with the State showing reluctance to allocate funds for land acquisition, the Railways must go ahead with the critically important project that will go a long way in boosting infrastructural development of the region, he said.

"I still crave for serving Chamaraja Assembly segment despite losing three times"

Former MLA Vasu speaks his heart out at felicitation event

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (SBD&DM)- Former Chamaraja Constituency Congress MLA Vasu has expressed gratitude for each and everyone who supported him in his public service as an MLA.

He was speaking after being felicitated on his birthday and for having received the prestigious Sahakara Ratna State Award at a programme organised by his supporters and Janaspandana Foundation at Leela Channaiah Samudaya Bhavan on Valmiki Road here yesterday.

Noting that he began public life as a Director of Karnataka State Co-operative Bank way back in 1976 and then served as its Vice-President and President, Vasu said that he entered politics by contesting the MCC polls in the 1980s and later became the city Mayor.

Pointing out that he served as Political Secretary to the then Chief Minister Dr. M. Veerappa Moily (1992-94), Vasu said though he contested from Chamaraja Assembly segment four times, he won only once in 2013. Maintaining that he was not deterred by his defeat, the former MLA said that Chamaraja was close to his heart and he still wants to serve the people, whether he is in power or not.

Recalling the works he had done when he served as MLA (2013-2018), Vasu said he was happy that many Government Hospitals came up along KRS Road during his tenure. Contending that Kidwai, NIMHANS and Nephrology Units and many such developmental works were all his plans, for which lands too were identified, Vasu said that he felt satisfied with his work as an MLA.

Maintaining that no Royal family in the country had worked for the well-being of people like the erstwhile Mysore Maharajas, Vasu said he was carried away by the love and affection bestowed on him by people from all sections of society and leaders irrespective of party affiliations.

Adichunchanagiri Mysuru Shakha Mutt Seer Someshwaranatha Swamiji, Kaginele Mutt Seer Shivanandapuri Swamiji, Mysuru Bishop Rev. Fr. K.A. William, Muslim religious leader Hazrat Maulana Abdul Salam and other religious heads graced the occasion.

Former District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President N. Girigowda, Fr. Vijaykumar, Fr. Joseph, Fr. Bernard Prakash, former Corporator Prashanth Gowda, leaders Suhail Baig, M. Sreenivas Kumar and others were present at the felicitation programme.
